GOVSENSE

Empowering Smarter Communities

GOVSENSE FOR COMMUNITY DIRECTORS

As the thought leader for your jurisdiction's departments, you have a lot to manage.

With GovSense, you can get it all done in one system that works together across departments and gives you a unified user experience no matter which department's information you're accessing or what device you're using.

Increase employee productivity

Liberate employees from inefficient and disjointed processes. With a system that unifies communication across departments and gives one user experience across the entire system, you'll see errors decrease while giving employees time to focus on important, higher- value duties
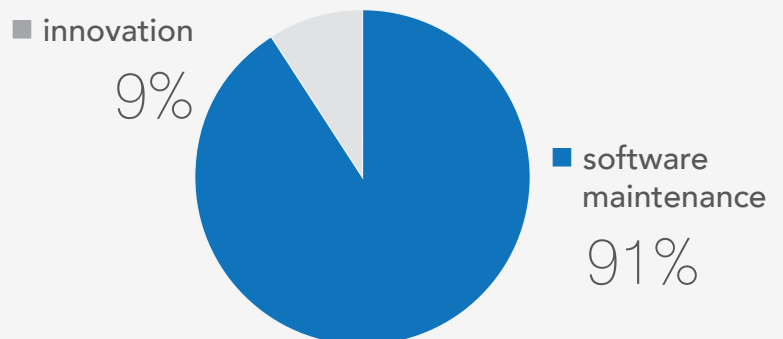

Enjoy real-time visibility

Say "adios" to wasting countless hours trying to tie unrelated, error-prone and out of date information together. Instead, get a complete 360 view of a person, place or project in a timely fashion. No more quick, uninformed decisions for your jurisdiction because users will be able to access data quickly and efficiently no matter which department the data is coming from.

Integration Complexity & Cost

Using siloed applications means that the average IT staff spends 91 percent of their time on software maintenance rather than on innovation.

Transitioning to an integrated true cloud solution will save an enormous amount of time and money that was previously spent on integrating, maintaining, upgrading and acquiring new versions of these applications. In addition, you will empower your employees to gather the information they need in real time rather than relying on IT to write a custom report or build a workflow.

Time Saved on IT

50-65%

Free up to 50 - 65 percent of the IT department's time

- By migrating to a cloud solution, you have the potential for substantial savings. Often times, communities are able to replace their current system with a cloud solution for only the cost of maintenance they had been paying for their on-premise solution.

- Free up 50 - 65 percent of the IT department's time to enable them to spend more time on innovation and less time reacting to hardware maintenance issues.

- In the future, as your jurisdiction grows and expands, GovSense is ready to grow with you. Our flexible system is designed to easily shoulder the burden of a growing jurisdiction. And we'll happily convert many existing system data for little or no cost to you.

EMPOWERING SMARTER COMMUNITIES

Transitioning away from cumbersome on-premise solutions to innovative cloud solutions is an integral part to building smarter communities.
